Prior to reading today you are going to look at the front cover and the blurb to make a prediction about the text. Using these make at least two predictions about the events, the characters or the problem that might occur in this novel. Then, open Chapter 1-Jesse Oliver Aarons, Jr. and read. Once complete write a short summary of what has happened. If there are parts you have forgotten or can't remember clearly, go back and re read to help you write your short summary. Once you have read the chapter you are going to be completing two tasks. Task 1 is focussing on cause and effect. Click on this link to see what cause and effect is. Using the quotes from the text identify which part is the cause and which part is the effect.	Assignment Alert: Your draft from today's lesson must be turned in as an Assignment by 2 PM! Today you will be creating a piece of writing with the aim of change someone's views. Select one of these Change My Mind prompts and complete the Persuasive Plan on your Week 1 Writing Page on OneNote. Type up your draft straight away as a Word document, making sure to include all of your important ideas and arguments as well as any evidence or elaborations. Read your writing out loud while revising and editing to check how persuasive it is before turning it in on the Assignments tab. Remember: There is no secret formula or template for an effectively persuasive piece of writing!	Click on the Time Tool link. Match the 12-hour time with the analogue clocks above them. When you have matched the five times take a screenshot and upload it to your One Note. Watch the Converting to 24-hour time video from yesterday if you need to refresh your understanding. Then click on the start button and you will go to practice time. See how adding and subtracting move the clock displays. When you understand how the buttons work click on the Time Challenge at the top of the page and complete 5-10 minutes worth of matching three sets of times. It could be a number of things that cause your stress, including school, friendships or family, sports, or a job in the future. Stress can be a positive thing, helping us to stay focussed in times of challenges or to stay alert in dangerous situations. However, if the body spends too much time feeling stressed, it can have negative impacts on your body. This is why it is important to find ways to manage stress. Your task today is to watch this video, to learn about what stress can look or feel like in your body, and things you can do to feel less stressed. You can find a link to the presentation here. After watching the video, complete the tasks on your Week 1 Inquiry Page to list the things you notice when you feel stressed and make a plan that you can use to help feel less stressed next time you encounter a challenge.
